1	The general rule during the prelims is that you must be in your timetabled class unless you are in an exam. The only exceptions to this are given in points 2-4.
2	For exams starting at 9:15 you must go to registration first and then go to the Hall by 9:10.
3	Some afternoon exams start before 1:40 PM. For these exams you are allowed to take an early lunch break as shown in the timetable.
4	If an exam finishes with 10 minutes or less before the end of a period you do not have to go to the class. If an exam finishes more than 10 minutes before the end of a period you must go to the class.
5	Conduct in exams - SQA rules will apply at all times.
